

FILION WAKELY THORUP ANGELETTI NAMED ONE OF CANADA'S TOP 10 LABOUR AND EMPLOYMENT BOUTIQUES

We are pleased to announce that Canadian Lawyer magazine, in its January 2012 issue, has once again recognized Filion Wakely Thorup Angeletti as one of Canada's Top 10 Labour and Employment Boutiques.

"This management-side shop was established in 1982 when the labour department of full-service firm Cassels Mitchell Somers Dutton & Winkler broke off. Founding partner Warren Winkler is now Ontario's chief justice. The firm settled on its current handle in 2001, when it expanded from its Toronto base to open an office in London, Ont. It currently houses 33 lawyers in the two offices. Its client list has expanded through most sectors of the economy, but has particular depth in manufacturing, construction, entertainment, the public sector, and financial services. The firm hosts a client conference each June, regularly pulling in more than 700 attendees."

~ Canadian Lawyer

Launched in 1977, Canadian Lawyer, a Thomson Reuters publication, delivers reporting and analysis of the legal landscape from coast to coast.

We would also like to congratulate the other firms who were named in the list.